

Highly Effective School Library Cohort Reflection

School Librarian: Katrina Griffith

Reflection 1		My Reflections
	Reflection Topic	Virtual Cohort Meeting using Adobe Connect
	Date of meeting or activity	December 3, 2012
	Insight I gained and/or how this will help me with my action plan goals	It was so valuable to be able to see and discuss the drafts of action plans from others in the group. It was also terrific to talk to one another and share current happenings.
	“Aha’s”	1. As a cohort, we are truly becoming a connected community. There is a strong level of trust among us – and well as a wonderful sense of support.  2. I realized how important it is to create my SMART goals to address the underlying needs of our students as articulated in our UIP’s improvement strategies with the CDE/HESLP indicators of what it means to truly be effective as a teacher-librarian.  3. The more I read and re-read our school’s entire UIP, I began to understand the many factors which seem to impact student achievement. More later...
	Questions	None at this time.

	Action Items I'm Taking as a result of this activity	I would love to have more virtual meetings with our group using Adobe Connect. Logistically, it is so much better than driving down 36 during rush hour ... and the tools within Adobe Connect allow for authentic collaboration and sharing!
